MacCormac College and Midstate College will formally enter into a teach out agreement effective September 3, 2019. The agreement between MacCormac College and Midstate College will impact one Court Reporting student. MacCormac College will serve as the teach out institution for this student in MacCormac College's Associate of Applied Science in Court Reporting degree program.

This teach out agreement between Midstate College and MacCormac College will afford the following flexibilities to Midstate College students;

1. MacCormac College will waive their application fee.
2. MacCormac College will waive placement testing.
3. MacCormac College will accept all credits toward the Midstate College student's associate's degree and not require any additional courses.
4. MacCormac College will price match the current tuition for Midstate College students.
5. MacCormac College will provide a platform for Midstate Court Reporting students to complete their court reporting associates degree online.

Midstate College students involved in the teach out agreement will complete the following courses at MacCormac college;

- a. Judicial Reporting 180
- b. Judicial Reporting 200 (with incorporated internship)
- c. Judicial Reporting 225
- d. CSR/RPR Prep
